TIRE WORKERS SEEK 26-CENT PAY INCREASE

Union Cites Increased Cost of Living In Requesting Wage Negotiations.

Workers at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company today asked for a 26-cents-per-hour wage increase to meet the increased cost of living.

Local 17, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America (CIO), headed by Desmond Walker, reopened the wage question with a written statement to company officials, requesting immediate negotiations.

Walker said the hourly increase would affect approximately 2,400 workers in both the factory and the office. Walker said the union asks that the increase be made effective Nov. 1.

An 18½-cents-per-hour increase was granted to the rubber workers last March, retroactive to Nov. 4, 1945, following an interim agreement reached in December with company officials. Walker said that the contract at that time stipulated that wage negotiations could be opened at any time.

Blames Loss of Controls.

"As a result of the action of the Congress of the United States, which caused the relinquishment of price control and the unprecedented rise in living costs, the URCLPWA is forced to reconsider its position with regard to the national economy and its effect upon our members," Walker said. "After considerable investigation, study and deliberation, the wage policy committee of the international union of which Local 17 is a part, has adopted the following wage program:

"That a wage demand of 26 cents per hour be made, subject to upward revision in the event that any further substantial increases occur in the cost of living between now and the time the settlement is made and that the settlement on this demand be made effective, Nov. 1, 1946.

MORE VETS ASK FOR 24 HOMES

The $64,000 allocated to Richland county by the state will build not more than 24 housing units for veterans, Commissioner John W. Selby said today.

He made his estimate for Garret-Riest post 503, American Legion, from Shiloh Mayor Glenn Swanger, leading the Legion delegation, asked to share in the project. He said the Shiloh post had a list of at least 13 veterans who need homes badly.

Meanwhile, Mansfield's American Legion post 72, composed of Negro veterans, formally requested all of the county's units be assigned to colored veterans. Officers said that they had been promised, but not granted, units being installed by the Mansfield Metropolitan Housing authority.

"We do not want units assigned to us where there could be any friction develop," Silas Robinson, post commander, said "Rather, we hope the commissioners will permit us to select the site somewhere among our own people. There are 53 colored veterans families badly in need of housing in Mansfield."

The Amvet housing committee had requested a meeting with the commissioners today but Elden Becker, chairman of the committee said he was informed this morning no meeting could be arranged.

LONDON NEWSPAPER BARES ATOM SECRET

LONDON —(INS)— The London Daily Express under a front page banner headline declared today that the United States has 96 atom bombs and is manufacturing additions at the rate of six each month.

The story, unconfirmed by any United States source, was headlined: "Atom bomb secret out."

Describing the bomb as 25 feet long and attached to two parachutes, the Daily Express asserted that it had received "authentic details of the structure and production of America's atom bombs —facts never before authoritatively stated."

GOP Broom Likely to Sweep Out Ohio Democrats, Poll Predicts

COLUMBUS—(UP)—All Democratic state candidates may be defeated in the Nov. 5 election, it was indicated today by a newspaper poll of 43 counties which produced over 80 per cent of all votes cast in Ohio in 1944.

If the poll is correct, Republican nominee for governor Thomas J. Herbert will carry the 43-county area by almost 100,000 votes, the Scripps-Howard Service and newspapers associated with it in the Ohio Press Service reported.

Among the counties polled were those which gave Gov. Frank J. Lausche practically all of his first-term majority in 1944. He received 54.3 per cent of the vote in the 43 counties and carried them by a majority of 217,000 two years ago.

In the present poll, 53.1 per cent of the votes collected in the area went to Herbert. Republican candidates for secondary offices received a higher proportion, the poll stated.

Herbert's majority in the counties, OPS said, will depend upon the total vote cast. The 100,000 figure was based in the poll upon a vote of 65 per cent of the 1944 total or about 2,000,000.

The poll reported that the 45 counties not covered, with 20 per cent of the state's voting strength, were heavily Republican in 1944 with few exceptions. Lausche captured 41 per cent of their vote in 1944 and lost the group by 104,833 votes.

In 1944 Lausche carried 15 of the 43 counties polled.

HOLD SUSPECT IN SHOOTING

Police Nab City Resident After Fatal Wounding of A. B. Lindsey.

Alonzo B. Lindsey, 25, 266½ North Main street, was fatally wounded early today when he was shot during a dispute in front of the Colored American Legion post quarters on North Diamond street, police said.

Lindsey died at General hospital about 2 a. m., a few minutes after he had been taken there by Robert Banks, 119 North Walnut street, a Veterans' cab driver.

Police said that the bullet, fired from a handgun of unknown caliber, struck Lindsey in the upper right chest. Police Chief Meade K. Bates said an autopsy would be performed today at the Geiger funeral home.

Banks told police he saw two men talking in front of the Legion building, when suddenly one drew a gun and shot Lindsey.

He said Lindsey was able to walk to the taxicab, but had to be carried from the cab into the hospital.

Suspect Held.

Capt. Paul E. Whipp and Patrolman Charles J. Letizia arrested a North Main street man early today. He is being held for investigation. Police said they are searching for the murder gun.

Lindsey, a plasterer, was born Feb. 17, 1921, in Mansfield. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zephaniah Lindsey, of Mansfield.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Artella Lindsey; a son, Alanzo, jr.; five sisters, Mrs. Callie Caldwell and the Misses Etta, Jeannette, Helen and Dorcas, and four brothers, Preston W., Zephaniah, Harold and Roscoe, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Geiger funeral home. Rev. L. G. Mattox, pastor of the Church of God in Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has been in the city since before the opening of the United Nations assembly last week.

The four will meet Monday at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel on Park Avenue to complete and sign peace treaties for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland, working from drafts produced in the recent 21-nation Paris Peace conference.

Later they may begin preliminary discussions of the treaty for Germany.

Fans Jam Grid Train For Toledo Junket

By BRUCE M'GINTY

Mansfield's first post-war football train pulled out of the Pennsylvania station yesterday at 5:15 p. m. carrying 500 grid fans.

They were members of the Senior high school band, employes of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, train sponsor, and their friends.

Gaiety marked the trip to Toledo with passengers playing gin rummy, bridge, and casino. They milled up and down the aisles munching sandwiches and talking football.

* * *

Misses Train.

John H. Hoffman, assistant personnel director of the Mansfield Tire and chairman of the athletic commission, who co-sponsored the special train with the 25-Year club, was undoubtedly the most unlucky fan of the evening.

Hoffman had been busy all week making arrangements for the trip and doing most of the footwork, only to arrive at the station platform with Mrs. Hoffman in time to see the "special" departing for Toledo.

However, Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman arrived by automobile in time for the opening kick-off.

James H. Hoffman, secretary of the Tire company, Frank A. Berkey, personnel director, and C. W. Schafer, president of the 25-Year club, were greeted with loud cheers from the band when they entered the band car.

A drizzling rain greeted the fans at Toledo, but Tire employe Cloyd Wycoff met the occasion by passing out paper towels to wipe off the dampened benches at Waite high school stadium.

It was not the rain but the Waite 32, Mansfield 7, score that dampened spirits of the fans. However, on the trip home Tire Builder Joe Casper led some lively "barbershop" singing to perk things up a bit.

1,000 Sandwiches.

Detective E. J. White, of the Pennsylvania railroad, who rides all special trains, said he has never missed a football special.

Don Barr and Jack Dalton, operators of the concession car, announced that 1,000 ham sandwiches were consumed going to Toledo and over 20 cases of coca cola had been sold.

Requiem Mass Said At Centenary Today

Continuing the impressive ceremonies which yesterday brought 1,500 persons to the centennial of St. Peter's Catholic church, solemn requiem mass was said at 8:15 a. m. today by Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of the church.

Today was chosen for this honoring of the church's dead because it is All Souls' day and Msgr. Goebel deemed it appropriate to honor former missionaries, priests, nuns and laity on this day.

He was assisted in this morning's service by Rev. Timothy Downey, who acted as deacon, Rev. Virgil Riedlinger, as sub-deacon, and Rev. William Conces, as master of ceremonies. All three are assistant pastors of the St. Peter's church.

All who participated in the worship wore black vestments. Raymond E. Baum was at the organ and music was furnished by children of the school.

Other masses of the morning began at 5 a. m. and continued through the 8.15 a. m. service. Following the solemn requiem Bishop Karl J. Alter also presided at three masses.

Tomorrow the centennial pontifical mass will be said at 11 a. m. Sunday night, the four-day observance of the church's 100 years of Christian activity, will be brought to a close with the confirmation of 450 catecumens by Bishop Alter.

FIRE, BURGLARS HIT CITY FIRM

Police Try to Link Blaze With Safe Cracking At Lumber Company.

Both police and fire departments today were investigating an attempted burglary and a fire last night at the Mansfield Lumber company, 243 North Mulberry street.

The fire, origin of which is unknown, damaged the lumber company offices and the Ohio Sports center, located next door to the lumber concern. Damage at both places was estimated at $5,000.

Firemen who answered the alarm at 10:36 p. m. detected an odor of tear gas, which led to the discovery that two safes in the lumber office had been partially cracked.

Locks Knocked Off.

Police said the combination locks of both safes had been knocked off. Tear gas had been released from one of the safes when the safecrackers set off a protective device, officers said.

It is not known whether the attempted burglary and fire are connected, but police said the circumstances were "suspicious."

Lumber company officers said nothing was missing from the office. They reported the office and a hallway were damaged by fire. Total damage to lumber company property was estimated at $2,000.

Vernon Jones, a partner in the Ohio Sports center, said two sailboats, a rowboat and trailer were damaged by the fire, which spread into a warehouse used jointly by the two concerns.

He estimated total damage at $3,000, and said the loss was covered by insurance.

KALIS MURDER COUNTS SOUGHT

The Richland county grand jury will be reconvened Thursday to consider two counts of first degree murder against Michael Kalis, 52-year-old steelworker, and "six or seven other cases," Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said today.

Lutz said Kalis, accused of shooting his wife, Helen, and his son, John, in a family quarrel at their home, 388 Springmill street, Oct. 17, is recovering from self-inflicted bullet wounds at General hospital where he is under 24-hour police guard.

Meanwhile, in probate court Virginia Kalis, 25-year-old daughter, has been appointed guardian of her father and Nick Zegaulakis, 358 Springmill street has been named administrator of the $5,000 estate of the mother Helen Kalis.

Lutz said Kalis was reported in good condition, though having lost vision in one eye.

RAIN TO BRING COLDER WEATHER

Interference on Ohio's football gridirons this afternoon will be limited to the variety offered by good blocking, as the weatherman promised cloudy skies but no rain.

Temperatures will remain mild through tomorrow, but showers are forecast for tomorrow afternoon, with the mercury scheduled to dip into the 40's Sunday night.

The high at Hayesville yesterday was 62 degrees. A low of 59 was recorded last night.

MINERS SLOW OUTPUT DURING PARLEY RECESS

Industry Official Predicts 'Unauthorized' Stoppages to Needle Government.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A coal industry official expressed apprehension today that the United Mine Workers may needle the government with a series of 'unauthorized' strikes while John L. Lewis bargains for higher pay.

With the Lewis-government negotiations in recess until Monday, walkouts already have closed 42 mines employing 5,700 men in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Solid Fuels Administration, which operates the mines, blamed the situation on failure of the workers to understand that their contract with the government is still in force. The SFA said union leaders are trying to get the men back into the pits by Monday.

But John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association, told a reporter:

"There is great fear in the industry that this is not just a misunderstanding."

* * *

Move Blocks Reserves.

He said an epidemic of such stoppages at the mines could block industry attempts to build up coal reserves, thus strengthening Lewis' hand at the bargaining table.

Lewis has said the contract is good until November 20, under his procedure for terminating the agreement. A general strike then would be possible, since the miners traditionally don't work without a contract.

Representatives of Lewis and the government took a weekend breathing spell after their first sparring yesterday, which a federal official said left the situation in "delicate shape."

* * *

Seek to End Strikes.

Elsewhere on the labor front, labor department and maritime commission spearheaded a government drive today for a quick end to four of the nation's most bothersome strikes.

These are the moves made by the two agencies:

1. The maritime commission authorized its west coast agents to place into effect on government Pacific ocean ships the terms of the recent east and gulf coast maritime strike settlement.

2. The labor department assigned Nathan P. Feinsinger, University of Wisconsin law professor who doubles as an ace government mediator, to work on the Pacific maritime and dock worker disputes, as well as the Hawaiian sugar stoppage.

3. Labor Secretary Schwellenbach asked the Allis-Chalmers company and the striking CIO Auto Workers to send negotiators to a bargaining session here Monday.

OPA WILL BATTLE FOR RENT CONTROLS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A determined fight to maintain rent controls was signalled by OPA today with disclosure that the price agency is expanding its rental staff.

Even while knocking off other price lids by the dozens, OPA has recruited 200 new rent employes and expects to hire another 400 this month, an official said.

The field and national force already working exclusively on rental ceilings numbered 6,114 today. Many other OPA workers spend part of their time on enforcement, accounting and administration.

Barclay On Bridge

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

"STRONG ENOUGH to pass" sounds like paradoxical language. It is not, however. In fact, it applies emphatically to many a hand on which an average player makes an opening pre-emptive bid of three or four in a major, or three, four or five in a minor. Practically every first-ranker in the country now reserves those bids for hands which are worthless if set down as a dummy at any other contract. If the hand with a long suit is of any value whatsoever at No Trumps, or on the defense, the fine player finds it "strong enough to pass," with the idea of coming in later.

	♠ K 5 4 ♥ J 9 7 ♦ Q 4 ♣ A 10 9 7 2
♠ 8 7 2 ♥ A K Q 10 5 4 3 ♦ 10 6 5 ♣ None	N W E S	♠ A 10 3 ♥ 8 6 ♦ A 8 7 3 ♣ K J 6 3
	♠ Q J 9 6 ♥ 2 ♦ K J 9 2 ♣ Q 8 5 4

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
4 ♥	Pass	5 ♥

Properly fearing a lead from his side honors, North opened a trump against that contract, and it was set two tricks, with the loss of a couple of tricks apiece in spades and diamonds. West remonstrated with East for his raise that got the side set one trick more than necessary.

West, though, was the real culprit. To begin with, he did not have enough playing tricks to be within two of the number required by his 4-Hearts bid when vulnerable. Secondly, and more important, he did not have a hand which was worthless on defense, as his A would have been good for a trick. Third, he did not have a hand which was worthless at No Trumps, but one probably worth seven tricks to his partner. He was, in other words, "strong enough to pass," then bid later.

If West had passed, East should have opened with 1-Diamond, whereupon West should have called 2-Hearts, East 2-No Trumps, West 3-Hearts and East 3-No Trumps. At this contract, nine tricks would have been absolutely sure—same number as at hearts—no matter what suit the defenders opened.

HOROSCOPE

For Sunday, November 3.

Sunday's astrological forecast is of radical and far-reaching significance, in which there is likely to be an abrupt and sudden precipitation of events and circumstances involving private, professional, social and business life with revolutionary consequence. It is probable that dramatic and breathtaking episodes may develop unwanted crises, conflicts and upsets of deepseated force. Tact, discretion, and discrimination are urged.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a year of the unpredictable and probably unprecedented. Sudden and dramatic events and crises are precipitated, having long-term and radical effect on the future, its destiny and fortunes. These may demand a complete about-face, change travel, amazing adventures and thrilling romance, but all may turn to "Dead Sea fruit" by impulsive, erratic, unstudied performances and overly-eager embrace. Much discernment and discrimination may promote excellent and happy culminations.

A child born on this day may be eminently creative, ingenious and skillful, with romance and adventure beckoning to dramatic experiences. But its over-ardent and reckless impulses might defeat its high purpose if not calmly regulated.

"Let's just watch!"

Dorothy Kilgallen—

In "Annie Get Your Gun," Ethel Merman gleefully shouts the brassily sentimental Berlin tune, "There's No Business Like Show Business," and the great Merm really sings the lyrics as if she meant them. She does, too. But tell me, Ethel, dear, why do people in show business go into so many other fields? Certainly not to make money, because any actor will tell you it doesn't pay to make too much money. Uncle Sam just puts the grab on it.

* * *

I have been keeping a little tome entitled D. K.'s Side Business Book, not a best seller, but informative. Let me skip around in it for a few facts to illustrate what I have in mind. Take the Johnny-Come-Lately to the list—Frankie Sinatra. The Bow Tie sings himself into something like a million dollars each semester, but he's got a nice little side venture. Frank is one of the owners of the new Atlantic City race track, and if you think that isn't a hot investment, just try to buy some stock in it. Then there's Bingie, who loves show business like no business, and has made a zillion-trillion dollars out of same. In his spare time he amuses himself with a race track, a stable of nags, an airplane parts factory, inventions, and now the Pittsburgh ball club.

* * *

And Bob Hope, ol' jug nose, isn't content with his quarter of a million per picture. He's also a baseball mogul—the Cleveland Indians with Bob Feller and company. Louis Prima, whose band earnings average about $800,000 yearly, has one of America's most expensive stake horse stables. And Don Ameche, who used show business to become the inventor of anything you name, has one of the finest money stables in the West.

* * *

Irene Dunne and Tony DeMarco are in the hotel business—quite a shack called the Beverly Hills Hotel, in cinemaland. Sonja Henie, whose skating tours net her a seven figure income and whose cinema fees are nothing to sneeze at even while looking at the ice, is a high bracket producer at the Center Theater. Victor Moore skips from stage to screen, but his plaything is one of Manhattan's largest bus terminals. And Billy Gaxton, who always looks so boyish when he plays opposite dear old Victor, owns a perfume company whose gross is big enough to permit Billy to take full pages on the product in the gazettes and magazines of the nation. Milton Berle snares $10,000 weekly at the Carnival, but spends a certain amount of spare time checking the figures on his radio and television store in the garment center district.

* * *

Fred Astaire's dancing has given him the income of a dictator, but he makes as much with his interest in a chain of grocery stores. No bandleader makes much more than Fred Waring but what's a bar without a mixer? Al Jolson, fabulous fellow of show business, can spend his days clipping profit coupons from his theatrical days, but he has his photograph on a side venture—a sun tan lotion. Bonita Granville owns a Hollywood beauty shop. Connie Bennett—remember her movie contract at the famous $20,000 weekly?—owns a large cosmetic business and also a Midwestern frock concern. Bert Wheeler, the little mousie man, could work the stages 53 weeks a year—but that little grin on his face comes from a Milwaukee beer, which he owns lock, stock and barrels. Ole Olsen has a midtown restaurant, and partner Chic Johnson has a commercial farm.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

V-2 bombs were still bursting in London, and Winston Churchill was very much the prime minister, when he hailed a taxi in the Strand and asked to be driven to the British Broadcasting corporation.

"Sorry, mister," said the cabbie. "Ye'll 'ave to get yourself another cab. Mr. Churchill is broadcastin' in thirty minutes and I wouldn't miss it for all the fares in London."

Churchill was so flattered that he pressed a pound note into the cabbie's hand. The latter looked at it in astonishment and came to a quick decision. "You're a bit of all right, sir," he explained. "'Op in, and to 'ell with Mr. Churchill."

ELECT A REPUBLICAN CONGRESS
A FACT TO REMEMBER
The FIRST vote of your Congressman is most important. McGregor will vote Republican on questions of organization. His opponent will vote with the present New Deal machine on the election of the presiding officers of the House and the selection of members of the Congressional Committees which determine which bills shall be considered and which shall not, and which conduct investigations into situations where there are indications of corruption, of mismanagement or waste in the administration of the affairs of Government.
REMEMBER THIS . . . SO LONG AS THE DEMOCRATS HAVE MAJORITIES IN THE TWO HOUSES OF CONGRESS THERE WILL BE NEW DEAL PRESIDING OFFICERS IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE, AND THERE WILL BE NEW DEAL MAJORITIES ON ALL OF THE LEGISLATIVE AND INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES.
If the voters want a constructive legislative program to preserve our liberal form of government and our American enterprise system; if the voters want a thorough-going investigation of such subjects as the current war contracts scandals; the answer is:

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2 1946

Drive carefully tomorrow—and better have your battery checked—they're very scarce, you know.

"FOR" is the word to look for on the school and recreation levy ballots next Tuesday—making sure that your "X" is placed in front of that word.

It is estimated that 35 million out of 59 million eligible voters will go to the polls next Tuesday—it being assumed that the other 24 million will do a lot of beefing about the inefficiency of government.

Be Fair To the School Teachers

MAINTENANCE of schools is a vitally important part of every progressive city's program—and Mansfield has shown in many ways that it is a progressive city. This editorial is intended to emphasize the need for placing Mansfield's public schools on a competitive basis with other cities in the matter of raising the pay of school teachers sufficiently to attract and hold capable persons in teaching positions.

Mansfield has some excellent teachers, but a number of these have made a financial sacrifice because of a preference to live in Mansfield. Many others, however, have been attracted to teaching positions in other cities, or have gone into some other line of work because of low pay in the teaching profession.

Considering the educational requirements for teaching, it is ridiculous to expect to draw young people into this profession at the present pay scale—for, after all, even less education is required for some jobs which pay more money from the start and offer greater opportunities for advancement.

Voters in the Mansfield school district will decide, at next Tuesday's election, whether or not the money will be provided to raise the pay of teachers. Unless the proposed 3 mill tax levy is approved Mansfield cannot hope to keep pace with other Ohio cities in the quality of its schools. Fine school buildings without good teachers are as useless as an idle factory—or as a beautiful automobile without a battery.

Appreciation of OPA's Unpaid Workers

SELDOM is an unpaid worker required to shoulder so much responsibility, encounter so many difficulties and be subjected to so much abuse, through almost four years, as has Charles C. Beelman in his capacity as chairman of the Richland county OPA board, and there is evidence of a relieved feeling as he anticipates termination of this service on November 12.

It is worthy of a place in the record that when the set-up of OPA here was being planned and Mr. Beelman was asked to accept the chairmanship, his first question was: "Is there any salary connected with it?" When assured that there would be no compensation he said: "Then I will consider it," —and he accepted what became a big, full-time job and carried through for three years, eleven months and twelve days, with no remuneration other than the satisfaction of performing a necessary public service as fairly and efficiently as is humanly possible.

Mr. Beelman's chief concern, in leaving this work, is that main credit be given to the other unpaid volunteer workers who served in various capacities during the operation of OPA—including the men who were on "panels" associated with different phases of OPA, such as sugar, gasoline, automobiles, food, shoes, durable goods, service, and the like.

Then, too, there were almost three hundred men and women who were volunteer workers in various stages of sugar rationing, while the paid clerical workers in the Mansfield OPA office at no time exceeded nineteen.

While the subject of more and more pay, to meet higher and higher costs, is uppermost in the minds of many, it is interesting to contemplate that some forms of community work must be done as an act of service—in appreciation of the privilege of citizenship and the opportunities thus accorded.

Willingness to serve without compensation, in the performance of tasks which contribute to community welfare and advancement, is a highly commendable trait among many Mansfielders—and it is fortunate that this is so, else this city could not have reached its present eminence as an exceptionally fine city in which to live, work, and rear a family.

Youthful Good Behavior Commended

HALLOWEEN observance in Mansfield this week made such near approach to all that could be desired in the way of youthful behavior that favorable comments were heard all over town yesterday.

The Thursday night football game between Simpson and Appleseed junior high school teams, again proved a magnet for several thousand young people, in addition to which there were a number of neighborhood Halloween parties designed to provide an evening of fun for groups of children.

Hunt's Halloween party last Monday night also served as an outlet for youthful exuberance, and, all in all, it turned out to be the sort of celebration that an orderly community might reasonably expect of its children.

Some cities make more of an organized effort to carry through a program of Halloween activities than Mansfield has yet done, with school buildings and other places used for gatherings of young people living in the vicinity of each, and this might be a proper activity for Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsorship in advance of another Halloween season.

Water Supply Brings Prosperity

ARIZONA, once the "desert state," is rapidly becoming one of the country's garden spots. With the extension of irrigation, particularly in the Salt River and Yuma valleys, flourishing truck gardens are springing up. Already one-fourth of the nation's lettuce is produced there, and with other vegetables nets 38 million dollars annually. Arizona's once famous cattle industry, yielding 20 million dollars revenue is pushed to second place, and cotton trails with a 17 million return.

As the irrigating systems are extended, so will be the vegetable-growing. All because of water. Despite present-day breath-taking scientific and mechanical inventions, ordinary water continues to be "the best of gifts that man to man can bring."

Bigger cities report a return of toy electric trains to the holiday market—with prices running up to $110 . . . which gives an idea that Dad will be entitled to consider himself a part owner.

ONLY A FEW MINUTES LEFT TO PLAY

Ignorance and Lethargy Handicap Operation of Democracy In U. S.

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—We talk a lot about our democracy and about strengthening and preserving it.

Just now ours and such others as still survive around the world are facing their most severe tests. To meet this will require the close and continual interest of all of us, not just office-holders, but citizens at large. Democracy operates every day.

But so many of us seem too busy to pay much attention to it, day by day, as much as we should, at least to the extent of keeping ourselves informed and alert.

But there is one day in almost every year when everybody old enough to vote can practice democracy. That is election day. It is then that democracy has its opportunity to take a look at itself, review itself, reorganize and renew itself.

Such an opportunity will be here again next Tuesday in the congressional elections, as well as local elections.

This election, the first since the war, is most important.

Yet we find little interest in many places. Worse still is the appalling ignorance among so many people of what this election is about, who is being elected for what.

Some confusion about issues might be expected—the politicians seemed determined to confound us this year, as usual. But there is little excuse for ignorance about primary facts, what officials are to be chosen and who are the candidates, just plain grade-school civics.

It shows up in many areas.

For example, when I was on the Pacific Coast recently, a California editor told me the often amazing answers to questions in a poll by his newspaper on simple election facts.

Another California newspaper started a political feature asking readers to send in questions they would like to ask candidates. In a week the newspaper received less than 30, but in the same week it was swamped with some 7,000 entries in Lena-the-Hyena cartoon contest.

Maybe we'd better elect Lena and call it a day.

Yet California is regarded as one of the more literate states, or at least likes to regard herself so.

A recent poll by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin disclosed that four out of five persons didn't know the names of candidates for major offices and seven out of ten didn't know what offices were to be killed.

Benjamin Franklin and the rest of the founding fathers must be whirling in their graves.

All this is discouraging, for in recent years the voters in some of our states had shown considerable discrimination as evidenced by the splitting of tickets. This reflected an honest effort to choose the best men.

The pity of the ignorance revealed this year is in the type of election this is turning out to be. It seems to be a protest growing out of all sorts of discontents. Consequently, there is likely to be mostly straight party voting that will not take proper account of men, in both parties, who have demonstrated ability in public service.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1926.

Urban Wolford, 70, was shot and fatally wounded by escaping inmate of institution.

Chamber of Commerce was taking "thought survey" to determine what projects were regarded as most important.

Vic Donahey was re-elected governor and Frank B. Willis, United States senator.

Mrs. James McClane, 70, died at her home, 40 Henry street.

Ray J. Hisey opened cafeteria in basement of Citizens bank building.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clark Brook, 15 Wood street.

Mansfield voters approved school bond issue by substantial majority.

Nine-year-old Nina Hahn, Olivesburg road, was injured when struck by an auto while going to school.

35 YEARS AGO TODAY

Potatoes were being sold here at 65 cents a bushel.

Dave Boone Says:

JOE STALIN must be feeling the influence of democracy in a big way. He's appearing almost daily on a quiz program.

Josef has just answered another long list of hard questions. He didn't get them all perfect, in my opinion, but he did well enough to rate twenty silver dollars and a year's supply of shaving cream or something.

* * *

To the question "Has Russia an atom bomb?" he replied "no." Of course, if Joe had one he would admit it and add, "Glad to have you come up and see it any time. Bring your camera and notebook."

* * *

Mr. Molotov in that speech before the U. N. general assembly wasn't any study in doves and olive branches. He wants America and everybody else to disarm by giving up everything Russia hasn't got.

There's one thing Josef has over Molotov: he makes it brief. There's no chance of peace through the U. N. until all speeches are limited to ten minutes, if you ask me.

Listen World!

Is This "Land of the Free" Too Free?

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I REFER to one Charlotte Phillips. She isn't much to look at and less to listen to but she claims to be student head of the University of California Communists.

The University of California has the largest enrollment of any college in the United States. Its enrollment has been increased by the GI Bill of Rights. But at all times it has been a free university supported by the willing taxation of a free people.

And now this little termite comes along and says she can't possibly take an oath because she doesn't believe in God and is a Communist.

Personally I would just as soon argue with Charlotte Phillips as I would with a cockroach. I consider them on the same plane. But what is burning me up and burning me plenty is that we Americans are saps enough to stand for this.

Here comes a young woman from Russia. Her birthplace is of less than no importance to me. You can find her likes under any stone. They breed things like that under stones. But, I repeat, my rage is not directed at squinty little Charlotte Phillips. My rage is directed with all the wallop it can carry at the American people for lying down like a lot of saps and taking this stuff.

The University of California is a free institution. It was founded, as was the rest of the country, on the efforts of private individuals. Some of them were God fearing, some weren't. But take them by and large and they were a pretty good lot of guys. I'd hate to take my chances of batting any one of them on the chin.

And yet we let this little squirt come here and sneer at us while she is profiting by the results of our efforts and our faith.

I wonder how long this sort of thing is going to go on.

We had a Boston tea party once—do any of us happen to remember that? We fought Indians once—not always to our credit. But in one way or another we conquered one of the greatest empires on earth and—theoretically at least—dedicated it to freedom and equality.

And now in one of our greatest institutions of learning we allow a little snip to get up and boast that she doesn't believe in God but will "take an affirmative oath to tell the truth."

I am 63 years old. In my youth there would have been just one answer to that in America. And this would have been the answer—"To hell with you and your affirmative oath! Scram, you little tramp!" And she would have scrammed.

For Pete's sake, what has happened to the men and the women who made this country? What has happened to the blood that enriched this soil and the spirit that lifted it up to a glimpse of God? Have we gone so soft that any hobo from any land can come in and smear disgrace upon us and laugh at us?

Charlotte Phillips does not matter but the American people matter very greatly. And I think it will matter greatly in the days to come, that we who once conceived of a free and equal land have forgotten our birthright and betrayed our trust.

If the rest of you are so soft you can take this. I'm not. I helped build this country and as long as I can yell loud enough, I shall defend it.

Campaign Reaches Fever Pitch As Opposing Forces Present Claims

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMERICA'S political campaign is at fever pitch. Although an off year politically, 1946 can shift the balance of congressional power from Democratic to Republican ranks and it will have a tremendous bearing on 1943 when the presidency is at stake. Tuesday's election returns will decide all 435 house seats, 34 senate seats, 33 governorships and innumerable state, county and city elective offices.

The voice of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt is soaring from coast to coast again as national Democratic leaders seek to capitalize on his leadership by replaying bits from his famous speeches. Henry Wallace, one of F. D. R.'s three vice presidents, is stumping the west as a private citizen after his protest over the foreign policy laid down by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes cost him his job as secretary of commerce.

Foreign policy as such is playing a comparatively minor role in the campaign even though Republicans have missed few opportunities to attempt to link Democrats to Communists. Republicans hailed the recent Moscow broadcast urging support of CIO-PAC endorsed candidates and the Democrats countered by recalling that in 1940 and 1944 Nazi Germany favored anyone running against Roosevelt.

Beefs About Beef.

The issues that will make or break most candidates' chances, however, are domestic. There are beefs from both sides of the political fence about beef and housing and rising prices.

Republicans contend this protest vote by housewives and consumers was "set" in their favor two weeks ago by President Truman's order removing meat and most other food controls. The Democrats, however, claim "obstructionism" by big business and Republicans stymied the price control formula and snarled reconversion.

Whatever the ballot returns Tuesday night may be, it seems certain a record off-year vote will be cast. Election officials and political leaders estimate that 59,669,656 persons are qualified to vote and that 35,421,339, or 59 per cent, probably will.

Record Vote Expected.

The 35,421,339 estimated vote total, compiled by the Associated Press from actual registrations and official and unofficial estimates of eligibles in the 48 states, represents an increase of more than 7,000,000 over the actual vote in the last congressional off-year election in 1942. That year, 28,070,185 cast ballots, or 52 per cent of the estimated number qualified.

In 1938, the last peacetime off-year election, the total vote for congress was 36,203,133.

Take Your Choice.

Republicans point to increased registrations in such key states as New York, California, Ohio and Pennsylvania as indicating a big protest vote at what they call "bungling on the home front." Democrats say the increase is due to returned service men and that a big vote means a Democratic victory.

Republicans appeared to be slightly ahead in some of the straw vote polls conducted by private agencies.

At Home

Disputes, Old and New.

The harried nation was emerging from one series of crippling strikes to face the possibility of another wave. The nearly month-long maritime strike ended on the east and gulf coasts, freeing a total of 1,181 ships and forecasting speedy settlement of the Pacific coast dispute. Another strike ended was a 57-day trucking tie-up, which at its peak idled 30,000 drivers and helpers serving metropolitan New York. Estimates of the twin transportation strikes ranged to $1,500,000,000 but some official agencies said it would take six months to survey the over-all costs.

The Railway Express Agency began to lift its embargo on shipments into key port areas but the Association of American Railways said it would take some time yet for lifting of freight bans.

The biggest unions—the ones which had the biggest strikes since the war ended—are beginning to talk higher wages again. They are John L. Lewis' AFL coal miners, the CIO Auto-workers and the CIO Steelworkers.

* * *

More Volunteers Wanted.

The army, which signed up an estimated 50,000 recruits in October, has passed its first-year goal of a million volunteers; already it is training its sights on transforming the postwar regular army into an all-volunteer outfit.

This revised program would do away with the draft (the hope of both the war department and congress), provided at least 40,000 recruits could be signed up each month.

Success of the first year's campaign was underwritten by congress which guaranteed liberal educational benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, raised enlisted men's pay up to 50 percent and earmarked a $5,000,000 advertising fund for a national recruiting drive.

* * *

Stratospheric Snapshots.

Navy scientists are studying portions of the sun's spectrum never before photographed, snapped by a spectograph in a Nazi V-2 rocket 65 miles above the White Sands, N. M., proving ground.

Spectograms enable determination of materials which compose the sun. Using such pictures, scientists discovered helium on the sun before it was found on earth.

Spectograms taken at higher altitudes are valuable because light reaching the earth is filtered by the air and the shorter wavelengths of light never reach the ground level.

* * *

Talent Rewarded.

In Concord, N. H., auto dealer Nils Carlson had the most artistic soap-scrawled windows in town the day after Halloween. The day before, he blocked his plate glass show windows off in 16-inch squares, offered $20 in prizes for the best soap drawings by teen-agers. Tall artists were assigned top squares and small fry areas near the sidewalk. "My windows were soap-marked for years, so why not attract the best talent?" he explained.

* * *

Assembly at Work.

The United Nationa general assembly, which opened 10 days ago in speeches of pomp and ceremony at its sleek, new temporary headquarters on New York's Flushing Meadow, got down to argumentative brass tacks on the subject of atomic energy and the veto.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov dramatically called for immediate worldwide reduction of armament, including a ban on manufacture and use of the atomic bomb. In the same speech, Russia's stocky forthright diplomat charged that groups of imperialists in certain countries were bent on world domination, reckless aggression and the most hazardous military adventures.

Bernard Baruch, speaking elsewhere in New York City that same day, declared that the United States would refuse to sign any atom bomb agreement which included the power of veto.

Abroad

Stalin Speaks Again.

Stung perhaps by Winston Churchill's suggestion that Russia had 200 troops divisions deployed in eastern occupied Europe, Premier Joseph Stalin made another of his public pronouncements from the Kremlin by answering a list of written questions submitted by a foreign press representative—this time by Hugh Baillie, president of United Press.

This time, Russia's "Man of Steel" accused Churchill of being among the "instigators of a new war," and said that he and "others of like mind in Britain and the United States" should be exposed and curbed. Presence of British troops in Greece, he felt, was unnecessary.

Stalin declared the Soviet Union has no atomic bomb nor anything like it. He urged rigid international control of atomic energy.

Quotes

Grove Patterson, editor Toledo Blade: "Russia is unprepared for another war and it is not strange that she is interested in getting a disarmament agreement if possible."

Rev. Martin Niemoeller, German pastor jailed by the Nazis: "So far, we have not taken seriously the conceptions of guilt and atonement. When in the midst of a Christian people 6,000,000 persons are deliberately murdered only because they belonged to another race, no one can maintain that guilt is not a fearful reality."

Farmer's Diary: "Forestry Report."

THE VILLAGE of Poland, near Youngstown, Ohio, was first in this state to pass an ordinance creating a community forest. In 1916 the village council passed such an ordinance "for the purpose of creating a municipal enterprise which shall be self-sustaining . . . and providing for the care and management thereof."

This forest is the result of two land gifts to the village. One tract of 50 acres was donated by Judge Rose, in 1916—the other 150 acres was given by Mrs. Grace Butler, in memory of her husband. A part of this tract, known as "Butler Woods" is to be kept in its natural condition.

Old timers remember the woods as a virgin stand of sugar maple, beech, basswood, red and white oak, ash, willow and sycamore on the bottoms. Numbers of large trees are still there. Evergreens, including red and white pine and Norway spruce have been planted. The management plan includes cutting operations aimed to make the woods eventually a source of revenue to the village.

AN ex-soldier, near Peebles, Ohio, makes his living cracking walnuts. He has invented an electrically powered machine that will crack and pick the nuts at the rate of 3,600 an hour. The cracker runs 24 hours a day, eight months a year. Fifty or 60 pounds of fresh kernels drop from it daily. In recent years these have brought as much as 90 cents a pound.

After the first autumn frosts, truckloads of walnuts begin to arrive at the Kenneth Dick farm. These come from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, until there are about 4,000 bushels of nuts piled about the cracking shed. These are cleaned of remaining hulls and dumped into large bins where they are sprinkled heavily with water, covered with burlap sacks and allowed to heat for three days. This moistens the kernels so they will come out of the shells in halves, not in small pieces. The product is shipped in 50-pound cartons.

THE largest beech tree in United States is an aged diseased tree at Cannon, Delaware, but the title "King Beech" soon may go to a tree that measures 15 feet 6 inches in circumferense located on the property of A. L. Hadlock, Plymouth township, Ashtabula county, Ohio.

Speed Produces "Motion Sickness."

SINCE the beginning of time man seems to have had an urge to travel—to get out and go places. So long as he stuck to the primitive methods of ox-cart, mule-back and "shank's pony", he had little to fear in the way of physical upsets due to motion, at least in his journeys over land.

Of course any sort of travel over unstable and wind-whipped waters has always carried with it the possibility of seasickness, and with the advent of fast transportation by train or car more and more people experience a similar discomfort even while sticking to dry land. Now that airplane travel has become common we hear a lot about air-sickness too.

Recently doctors have come to lump all these ailments under the one name—motion sickness—because all are essentially due to movement.

Motion sickness causes such symptoms as sickness to the stomach, headache, and vomiting. There are a number of things which persons can do to help prevent motion sickness. It is suggested that about a week prior to travel a person who is subject to this condition should go to bed early every night, avoid excessive eating and the excessive use of alcoholic beverages. Attention should also be given to having a daily bowel movement.

During a trip, if motion sickness develops or seems to be coming on as indicated by excessive saliva in the mouth, yawning or a feeling of warmth, he should tilt his head backwards and look upwards.

Certain drugs are also available which seem to have some benefit.

Physicians at the Mayo Clinic have also suggested that about a week prior to a journey it may be helpful for the patient to take some sedative or nerve-quieting drug, which the physicians will prescribe.

There are no figures showing the number of people who suffer from car sickness, but certain studies show that at least 10 to 15 per cent of our air travelers become sick en route. A great many more feel ill at ease but without vomiting. As for seasickness, it has been estimated that 40 per cent of all people are susceptible to it.

Paul Champions Freedom, Brotherhood ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Acts 15:1-36; Galatians 2, 5.

Certain men came to Antioch and taught that Gentiles could not belong to the church unless they obeyed the Jewish law in every respect; and Paul and Barnabas argued with them.

Finally Paul and Barnabas were chosen to go to Jerusalem and lay the matter before the elders. They passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles.

In Jerusalem after discussion and some dissension, it was decided to write to the Gentiles telling them they need not be circumcised, but must obey only certain of the laws of Moses.

Paul, Barnabas, Judas and Silas were sent to take the letters and they read them to the Gentiles in Antioch who rejoiced greatly.

Army, Notre Dame Politely Stand Aside

NEW YORK—(AP)—With Army and Notre Dame politely standing aside by taking on less formidable opponents today, some of the other major college teams get a chance at the football spotlight.

The Cadets and the Irish, ranking one-two at the top of the national standings, clear the decks for their titanic struggle here next week by facing West Virginia and Navy, respectively.

Columbia and Cornell, both unbeaten in Ivy League competition, offer one of the east's more even contests before a sellout 35,000 here. Yale and Dartmouth play before an anticipated 65,000 in the bowl at New Haven, and Penn goes after its fifth straight by taking on Princeton before 70,000 at Philadelphia.

In other eastern attractions, unbeaten Harvard meets a good Rutgers team, Colgate and Lafayette renew an old rivalry, New York University entertains Boston College, Temple goes to Syracuse and Fordham makes a trip to Penn State.

In the Southern standout, unbeaten Georgia meets Alabama. These perennial powerhouses of the Southeastern conference are due to score off before some 50,000 at Athens, Ga. Besides this and the North Carolina-Tennessee tussle, there are Clemson-VPI, Georgia Tech-Duke, Maryland-William and Mary, North Carolina State-MI and Vanderbilt-Auburn.

Northwestern, only unbeaten eleven in the Western conference, faces resurgent Ohio State before an excited 48,000 at Evanston. Illinois and Iowa, each beaten once in Big Nine competition, come together in another midwest feature. Minnesota and Michigan meet before U sellout 58,000.

Missouri and Nebraska, currently tied with Oklahoma for the Big Six lead, meet in an elimination contest, while the Sooners face Texas Christian, Texas A. & M., sharing the Southwestern conference lead with Rice, meets Arkansas. Rice plays Texas Tech and the Texas Longhorns meet Southern Methodist.

On the Pacific Coast, Southern California has to beat Oregon to remain in the conference race as a bowl contender against University of Southern California at Los Angeles. Oregon State meets Stanford while Washington State tangles with California.

UCLA put down a game St. Mary's eleven 46-20 last night. In other Friday night games, Marquette upset favored Detroit 21-20, Wake Forest overpowered Chattanooga 32-14 and University of Miami (Fla) defeated Villanova 26-21 in a game that was featured by Villanova's substitute Bob Polidor's 109-yard touchdown runback of a kickoff.

Tygers Tumble Before Waite

WIN SKEIN SPOILED BY INDIANS, 32-7

By FRED THARP, News-Journal Sports Editor.

TOLEDO—Sent away to a 6-0 lead in the first 20 seconds, an alert Toledo Waite powerhouse made a convincing bid for the 1946 Ohio high school gridiron championship by knocking hitherto unbeaten Mansfield Senior high school off its high perch, 32-7, before a crowd of 11,000 in the Indian tepee last night.

Clever Bob Carson threaded the sidelines for 85 yards on the opening kickoff and from that point on the Waite aggregation took advantage of every conceivable break to ruin the Tygers' undefeated record. Mansfield had won five and tied two prior to last night's conflict.

Mansfield, the third team to score on Waite in eight games, pieced together all of the game's long excursions and had a definite edge in statistics. But the cards wouldn't fall right and only a 70-yard drive in the fourth quarter paid off with Ralph Majors skirting end for 20 yards and the counter.

A 96-yard drive after Carson's kickoff-return ended in one of Mansfield's frequent first half fumbles on the two. The Tygers fumbled four times in the first two periods and recovered only one of the bobbles.

Another Mansfield drive of 74 yards was halted on the two by the final gun.

Coach Paul Snyder's eleven picked up nine first downs to five for Waite and outgained the winners on the ground 182 to 132 yards. The Tygers completed four of 13 passes for 62 yards while Waite connected four times in seven tosses for 43 yards.

However, the Bengal horde wasn't the only high-ranking Ohio schoolboy team to taste that bitter first defeat. Dayton Chaminade, Campbell Memorial and Dayton Oakwood all saw seven-game 1946 winning streaks wiped out.

Mighty Massillon ended Chaminade's two-year skein at 16 with a 35-12 victory, Lima Central toyed with Oakwood, 54-6, and Youngstown East stopped a two-year Campbell winning streak, 13-7. Central, Youngstown Woodrow Wilson and Cincinnati Purcell are the only major Ohio elevens with unbeaten, untied marks.

The soggy gridiron hampered the offensive efforts of both teams, although the antics of Majors and Carson easily stood out. The Mansfield ace cavorted for 92 yards in 13 trips and racked up his sixth touchdown at the season. Carson made only 49 yards in 10 trips but counting a pair of TD's from scrimmage in addition to his game opening six-pointer.

Longest drive compiled by the Waite club was a 41-yard march for their second touchdown. Elmer Scallish recovered a Tyger fumble on the 27 and the Indians were penalized to the 41. A Carson pass was incomplete and then a farword lateral Carson-Bob Dedo-Bill Gregus went for 18 yards.

Carson then passed to Joe Durst down the middle for 18 and a first down on the five. Three tries at the tough Mansfield line picked up only four yards and Carson swept to the right for the second marker. He added the 13th point.

Two minutes later a Gregus punt went out of bounds on the Tyger three. Ollie Cline, punting from behind the goal line, booted to Dick Davis on the 33 and the Bengals fell asleep at the switch as the Waite right-half streaked down the sidelines for the counter.

To complete the second stanza route Don Kowalka, a tower of strength on the Waite forward wall, partially blocked a Cline punt and Walter Young returned seven yards to the 23. Carson went off-guard for four and Gregus carted the remaining 19 on a naked reverse. Carson converted.

Mansfield's awesome display of power after the opening touchdown had the Waite team back on its heels momentarily. Glen Rae kicked to the two and Majors returned to the 28. Cline, Majors, Bill McKee, who started at fullback and Harry Osbun alternated to rip the Waite line asunder.

In 16 line plays, the Tygers moved to the Indian 12. Majors got away but the slick pigskin squirted from his grasp and Al Hepler recovered on the two. Gergus punted 52 yards from the end zone and Waite was out of danger.

Waite made only two first downs in the opening half and scored four times.

The Tygers bad luck came up to dog them again in the final chapter. Young intercepted a pass on the 30 and scooted to the 25. Gergus picked up 18 yards on a mouse-trap play through guard. Carson swept around his right-end for the final Waite tally.

Mansfield's scoring excursion got under way when Majors returned a punt 19 yards to the Bengal 49. He slid off tackle for four yards and Osbun pounded for 14 in two tries. Cline passed to Majors for 11 yards and McKee let a Cline aerial trickle through his fingers.

"Bullet Bill" streaked for 11 yards on the succeeding play and then Majors went the remaining 20 yards behind superb blocking.

After a Jim Schaetzke quick-kick went out on the Mansfield 24 the Tygers started again with a vengeance. Majors passed to Soph Bernie Weaver for 39 yards and hit Cline for eight. McKee lost five on a sweep but bolted for 16 on the next play. Majors swept for 16 to the two as the game ended.

Shelby and Upper Sandusky Tied for Northern Ohio Lead

SHELBY—The Shelby Whippets went into a tie with the Upper Sandusky Rams for the lead in the Northern Ohio league when held by Coach Earl Shaffer's eleven to a 0 to 0 tie here last night before approximately 6,500 persons who filled the W. W. Skiles athletic field to overflowing for the homecoming festivities.

Although the tie kept Coach Al Fendrick's team undefeated in the league race, the point system used by the league to determine official standings gave Upper Sandusky a share of the lead this week. Shelby has won five out of six games while the Rams have won five out of seven.

Coach Fendrick's charges can win an undisputed title by defeating Crestline here next Friday night in the only remaining league game to be played this season. A loss for Shelby will leave the Whippets tied with the Rams for the championship. Upper Sandusky completed its league schedule here last night.

Both teams were in scoring territory by interceptions of passes, fumbles or failure to make the necessary yardage kept the elevens scoreless.

A break early in the first quarter came for Upper Sandusky when Quarterback Mason recovered a Shelby fumble. Stanton Jones, Whippet halfback, intercepted a pass a few minutes later to end the threat.

Later in the same period, Jones carried the pigskin to Upper Sandusky's 3-yard line on a 52-yard run. Quarterback Bill Thompson passed to Fullback Bill Keiser for two yards and the drive bogged down with the visitors holding for downs.

Only once in the entire game was a miner out in front of the entire opposition. Quarterback Thompson raced through the entire Upper Sandusky eleven for a 63-yard run before being caught from the rear by End Wilson on the visitors' 15-yard stripe. Keiser made two yards to the 13 where the drive bogged down.

Before the game, Dave Connelly, president of the Shelby high school student council, crowned Miss Jeanne Berry, 17, Shelby senior, as homecoming queen. Miss Berry had been selected as queen by popular vote of the students.

Serving as her attendants were the Misses Marjorie Broderick, Patricia Ford, Rose Crawford and Lou Ann Jones, all senior class members.

Fairview Defeats Wildcats, 12 to 7

NEW LONDON — Fairview's passing attack proved costly to New London last night and the Wildcats suffered a 12 to 7 set back.

Kepke tossed a 10 yard pass to Babson in the first Fairview score after New London had fumbled the ball on their own 30 yard line. The second TD came on the famous sleeper play with Kepke again heaving to Leonard for 18 yards.

Kay Cady intercepted a Fairview aerial and raced 55 yards for the Cat only score. Douglas Lash converted the extra point.

Start On Right

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—The University of Texas football team has lost only one opening day game in more than half a century of grid wars. The Longhorns dropped a narrow 9-8 decision to Kansas in the opening contest of 1938. The Bible-coached eleven smeared Missouri 9-0 in the opener this year.

Ted Hople, Syracuse's left-handed halfback, saw duty for only one play against Holy Cross . . . but he threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to End Paul McKee.

Bill Veeck Rests After Amputation

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, was reported in "satisfactory" condition today at Cleveland Clinic hospital following amputation of his right foot yesterday.

Dr. J. A. Dickson, who performed the operation, said Veeck should be out of the hospital in two or three weeks. He reported that the operation "went well" and added that the Tribe president should recover without complications.

Veeck agreed to the amputation when the foot became infected again two weeks ago. Veeck injured the foot while serving with the Marines on Bougainville Island two years ago.

Cleveland Hockey Team After Third Straight Win.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Cleveland's Barons will seek their third straigh victory over the Buffalo Bisons tonight in an American hockey league clash.

The local skaters upset the Bisons, 5 to 3, two weeks ago and then handed them their first whitewashing of the season in Buffalo last Wednesday when they won a 2 to 0 decision.

Marietta Homecoming Game Marred By 7 to 0 Defeat.

MARIETTA, O. —(INS)—Marietta's homecoming week-end was blighted today by a 7-0 gridiron loss to Wittenberg.

Wittenberg scored its lone touchdown on a 24-yard pass into the end zone from Gene Hannum to Emerson Poppler just before the end of the first quarter in last night's scrap.

Forty-five candidates remain on the 1946-47 basketball squad of the University of Notre Dame following a "cut" after the first week of practice, according to Basketball Coach Edward W (Moose) Krause.

National Pro Football Leads At Stake In Sunday's Games

NEW YORK—(AP)—The lead in both divisions of the National Football league will be at stake tomorrow when the New York Giants, eastern pace-setters invade Philadelphia and the Green Bay Packers move in against the Chicago Bears, front-runners in the western half of the professional circuit.

If Philadelphia's Eagles whip the Giants, they can take over the eastern lead but only if the Washington Redskins fail to get past the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh. A Washington victory and a New York defeat would return the Redskins to the top spot.

The Packers, beaten twice in five starts, could move into the western lead by beating the Bears whose record includes three wins, a loss and a tie. The Giants with four victories and one defeat, own the best record in the league. Washington has won three, lost one and tied one, while Philadelphia has won three and lost two.

In other National league games tomorrow the Los Angeles Rams fourth-place team in the west visit Detroit, whose Lions are in the western cellar, and the third-place Chicago Cardinals invade Boston, last-place team in the east, for the only game involving clubs of both divisions.

Neither leader is in danger in the All-American conference, which scatters its games through the week-end.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Rockets, both operating under new coaches, were scheduled for a game in Chicago last night but it was postponed in mid-afternoon because of rain.

The San Francisco 49ers, who knocked the Cleveland Browns out of unbeaten class last Sunday to leave both professional leagues without a single undefeated team, entertain the Buffalo Bisons today.

The Bisons have been doing some upsetting of their own, stopping the Rockets last week and the 49ers two weeks ago.

The Browns, still well out in front in the western division, will be at Los Angeles for a battle with the Dons tomorrow while the New York Yankees, firmly entrenched in the eastern lead, entertain the Miami Seahawks.

Unbeaten Grid Marks Marred

Unbeaten records of three "big-time" Ohio schoolboy clubs lay in jig-saw fragments today after a Friday night serving of strongly flavored grid fare.

Most surprising of the blemishes was the 35-12 trimming of Dayton Chaminade by the Massillon Tigers. The Tigers had a record of four wins, one defeat and one tie going into the fray.

Chaminade traveled north with a win record extending back to 1944 and a 7-0 mark for the season.

Eighteen thousand fans watched a previously unheralded Tiger passing attack net three touchdowns. Jack Zeller, Massillon end, snared two of the aerials for six-pointers and Gene Zorger, a back, got the other. Line plunges by Dan Boylene and Ben Roderick tallied the other Massillon scores.

In another of the evening's surprises—surprising because of its one-sidedness — once-beaten Toledo Waite walloped Mansfield 32 to 7.

Waite stadium was crowded with 11,000 fans who saw the hometowners score one touchdown in the first quarter, three in the second and a fourth in the final period. The Tygers' lone score came in the fourth.

A wet field hampered both teams, causing several costly Mansfield bobbles, one of them on Waite's two-yard line.

Lima Central, itself unbeaten in seven starts, ended a seven-game winning streak compiled by Dayton Oakwood with a 54 to 6 shellacking.

Toledo Libbey, humblers of Waite in an early season upset, maintained its victory skein with a 19 to 12 victory over Hamilton.

A triumph column totaling 25 games was bettered by Cincinnati Purcell when it knocked off a city rival, Withrow, 20 to 7.

In other top attractions Canton McKinley downed Alliance 34 to 0; Niles coasted by Wellsville 26 to 0; Youngstown Woodrow Wilson bested their city rivals Ursuline 34 to 7; and Steubenville Central Catholic beat a cross-river opponent, Wheeling Central Catholic, 32 to 7.

Ed Thomas, Don Morris, Herb Eldridge, Eldon Pritchard, and Dick Ernsberger, all regulars this season played for the 1947 team.

The '47 Rams rolled up six first-downs to four for the present varsity.

Haudenschild scored on runs of 60, 20, and set up one touchdown on a 54 yard sweep down to the three.

Dick Beck scored one TD on a 14 yard off tackle smash and accounted for three extra points on running plays. Don Wickam scored one touchdown on a 66 yard end run and Bill Porter went off tackle for the extra point.

Cleveland Browns Squarely On Spot

NEW YORK—With Cleveland's bubble of invincibility broken Sunday, the All-America Conference will plunge into the second half of its 56-game schedule this weekend . . . with the Browns squarely on the spot.

Undefeated and untied in 7 games, Cleveland dropped a 34 to 20 decision to San Francisco's 49ers quarterbacked by the same Frankie Albert who put Stanford in the Rose Bowl twice.

Now the Browns head West to play Los Angeles and San Francisco on successive weeks. A win for the Dons and San Francisco victories over Buffalo and the Browns would shoot the 49ers into a first place tie.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

Mysteries are provoking. They refuse to be forgotten completely. Every now and then they pop into your mind and stir up curiosity all over again. And usually there is nothing you can do about it but wonder and wonder.

Peter Rabbit had given up trying to find out who had taken Jerry Muskrat's Clam from the bank of the Smiling Pool. It was a mystery to which he was sure now he never would or could find the answer. So he tried to forget it. But every now and then it would pop into his mind to plague him.

This morning he was sitting at the edge of the dear Old Briar-patch thinking of nothing in particular. Peter is a great hand to sit and think of nothing in particular. People with little to do are given to that kind of thinking. It never gets them anywhere, but they seem to like it. It is what is called lazy thinking.

The mystery of that lost Clam popped into his mind and began to plague him with wonder. Then he forgot it again as he saw a black speck in the sky a long way off.

"Blacky the Crow," thought Peter and began to wonder about him, where he had been, where he was going so early in the morning.

How did Peter know that speck in the sky was Blacky, not a Hawk or some other feathered person? By the way he flew. He long ago learned that all birds of a kind fly in the same manner, but that there is as much difference in the manner in which different kinds use their wings as in the colors of their coats. So he could recognize many by their way of flying when too far away to be recognized by their appearance.

The black speck was growing larger. "He is coming this way. Perhaps he'll stop with a bit of news," thought Peter.

Straight toward the dear old Briar-patch came Blacky. Before he got there he changed his line of flight so that he would not pass directly over the Briar-patch but a little to one side of it. That meant he wasn't going to stop. Peter was disappointed. Blacky was flying high. Peter hopped out in plain view. He knew that Blacky saw him, for there are no sharper eyes than those of Blacky the Crow. They miss little. They couldn't possibly miss any one as big as Peter Blacky didn't even call to Peter as he usually did when passing.

Peter understood this when he saw that Blacky was carrying something in his bill. He was too high in the air for Peter to see what it was. Of course, he couldn't speak with his mouth full. Peter watched him fly over the Old Pasture Above the middle of the Old Pasture Blacky began flying in an odd way. He no longer flew straight ahead, but began to circle. He didn't circle like Redtail the Hawk or Ol' Mistah Buzzard with out-stretched wings that are merely tilted now and then, but otherwise rarely move at all. They sail in circles. Blacky flaps his wings to take him around They go round and round, sometimes in very big circles, sometimes in quite small circles, by just keeping their great wings stretched, sailing round and round without any work at all. Blacky has to work, beating his wings to keep him going.

"It must be he sees something interesting down below in trying to keep himself over it so as to watch it," thought Peter, and sat up the better to watch Blacky. After two or three circles, each new one a little smaller than the last one, Blacky seemed to be trying to stay in one place in the air for a moment. It seemed to Peter that he dropped something, but of this Peter could not be sure He was too far away for that Anyway Blacky flew down and disappeared behind the bushes.

"I wonder what he saw down there and what he has gone down for," muttered Peter.

Just then Blacky came in sight again, flapping his way up and circling once more. He was not quite as high this time. Again he seemed trying to hold his position in one place for a moment, then flew down out of sight as before. He did it once more. This time it was longer before he appeared above the bushes. Instead of circling again he headed straight for the Green Forest.

OHIO VOTERS BACKING GOP, CLAIMS POLL

43-County Newspaper Survey Reveals Indication of Republican Landslide.

The current newspaper poll put him ahead of Herbert in only six of the 15 counties. They were: Cuyahoga, Summit, Mahoning, Butler, Belmont and Tuscarawas.

The governor's most costly loss, if correctly reflected by the poll, is in his home county of Cuyahoga, according to the newspapers. He polled only 52.7 per cent there in contrast to 67.8 per cent two years ago.

The poll reported his majority in Cuyahoga county may drop to about 20,000. In 1944 he carried the county by 192,000, some 80,000 more than his winning majority in the state as a whole.

In the race for U. S. senator, the Republican nominee, John W. Bricker, will be swept into office by a heavy majority rivaling those he marked up in his last two successful races for governor, according to the poll.

The newspapers reported U. S. Sen. James W. Huffman, the Democratic candidate, came out ahead in only one major county—Mahoning. Bricker held a fractional lead in normally Democratic Cuyahoga county, the poll indicated.

CITY ISSUES TWO PERMITS TO BUILD

Building permits were issued by the city yesterday for a $9,500 brick veneer residence and a garage remodeling project at a cost of $100.

The home permit was issued to Laser and Walker. The structure will be built at 376 Sturges avenue.

William Barnes, 452 Central avenue, was issued the permit to move a garage and add a new roof.

Vandals Pour White Paint Over Auto

Vandals who poured white paint on the top of a car belonging to Harold Lutz, 335 Central avenue, were sought today by police.

Lutz told officers that approximately one-half gallon of paint had been poured on top of his car. He said it ran down the sides and over the windshield.

Police said that Lutz reported the vandalistic act occurred at 10:30 p. m. Thursday night while the car was parked in front of his home.

out that the monthly output in tires has increased 2,000,000 units from the highest pre-war figure. He added that the company had exported $5,500,000 worth of tires in June of this year as compared with an average monthly export of $951,000 on tires during the years, 1936-1938.

Walker stated that both the Bureau of Labor Statistics index and the Dunn and Bradstreet Wholesale index indicated the cost of living has gone up 53 per cent since the first of the year.

He said that the straight-time wage average for the month of August was $1.35 per hour in the factory for both male and female workers on piece work and day work combined.

Lowest rate now being paid is 88½ cents an hour for janitress and 98½ cents an hour for a janitor.

Top rates, for tire builders, male or female, is $1.77 cents per hour. Top female rates in the factory, Walker said, averaged $1.10 for piece work employment.

All women workers on male jobs receive men's pay rates.

Job Placements Reach 14-Month High

Winchell — On Broadway

FOR HUNDREDS of years social custom made ignorance about VD an unwritten law. Newspapers wouldn't write about it. "Nice" people didn't say the words syphilis and gonorrhea out loud. All discussion about these dangerous diseases and how they are passed on was banned from mediums of public information. Then Surgeon General Thomas Parran ten yars ago cracked the taboo, after a radio station cut him off the air just as he was about to pronounce the word syphilis.

But that taboo still has power and strength. Radio still fears to tell the whole story of VD across the air waves. Mrs. Grundy still relegates discussion by doctors that Joe Doakes, Mrs. Doakes and the kiddies probably will dial out.

America's schools (with a few honorable exceptions) still fear to let the breath of fresh air into the classroom through frank discussion of sex education, integrated into the regular school curriculum. Hollywood, which plays to a box-office of 80,000,000, puts the V-eto on all mention of V-D on the screen. Only one movie, "The Silver Bullet," ever mentioned syphilis by name in an American film. Yet, 13 million Americans, approaching 1/10th of our population, today actually suffer from the diseases that these self-appointed guardians of our morals refuse to let us hear about.

VD, in case you didn't know it, means Venereal Disease. It also means Very Dangerous . . . Syphilis and gonorrhea, if untreated, can cause death, insanity, crippling and deformity. Today these diases are skyrocketing in the United States.

* * *

APPROXIMATELY 100,000 new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea were reported to the U. S. Public Health Service in just the first six months of 1945. Dr. John R. Heller head of the Service's Venereal Disease Bureau, warns: "Civilian VD rates are climbing through the entire country." Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, MD., Surgeon General of the U.S. Navy, says VD rates have doubled in many cities.

In New York City (one of the nation's cleanest cities) VD is up 29 per cent over last year for the first half of 1946 . . . In August alone VD in New York City was 41 per cent higher than in the same month a year ago.

Behind those figures is a startling paradox—of victory in war, defeat in peace.

It's an amazing fact that during wartime our country has twice been able to register its biggest advances against the ravages of venereal disease. Great gains were made in World War 1. Then vigilance was relaxed. Government money, formerly allocated for control, was diverted to other purposes. Epidemic followed. Thousands suffered needlessly. It took years to oversome the setback.

* * *

DURING WORLD WAR II unprecendented progress was made. In 1944, while our armies were still fighting the fascist scum, the VD rate was the lowest in modern American history. Right after V-J Day history began its tragic repetition. Syphilis and gonorrhea infections began to spread. Rates shot upward. Outstanding public health officers such as former sioner health officers such as former New York City Health Comsioner Ernest Stebbins began to warn of the danger of a new epidemic.

Like war, VD threatens all people. Rich and poor, black and white, and hits hardest at young people. Like war, it has social origins and can't be stopped by medical and public health activities alone. Science knows the cause. Science knows the cure. But ignorance, lack of public understanding of the whole question of social hygiene, stands in the path of progress.

Prostitution is an important source of venereal disease infection. Prostitution is banned by law in most states of this country, but the exploitation of American women, most of them young, still flourishes shamefully in our country. Here is another paradox of war and peace. During wartime, this most vicious racket was rigidly suppressed. Not in the interests of clean living—as it should be—but because commercialized vice was an obstacle to our war effort..

Now, only a year after V-J Day, organized vice is creeping back. Only the housing shortage, which makes it hard for the traffickers in women to find facilities for brothels, keeps many towns from going "wide open" all over again.

* * *

I HAVE DOCUMENTED information about what is happening in this racket. I have the names of American cities where law enforcement officers are keeping their eyes closed. Where racketeers are taking the towns over and respectable citizens, who try to invoke police action, get their knuckles rapped instead of their shoulders patted.

I am not going to name those cities now . . . But I suggest this to Wheeling, W. Virginia; Galveston, Texas, and Gary, Indiana, newspapers: Assign your reporters to the story of vice in your towns, if you want to break the biggest story of the year. Authorities in your towns truculently refuse to take any action against prostitution. They tolerate the worst kind of commercialized vice in the face of public opinion and in defiance of the laws they are under oath to enforce.

Their alibi is ancient and refuted by history. That suppression of prostitution is impractical; that suppression promoted VD because traffic shifts from women inspected for disease to amateurs free from inspection . . . Attention enforcement officers in Wheeling, Galveston and Gary: Public health records show that your alibi will not hold water! Consult the U. S. Public Health Service. Its findings prove that wherever houses of prostitution are closed down, VD rates go down with them. And New York City is living proof that suppression curbs vice and keeps it curbed as long as enforcement of the law is vigilantly maintained. Gotham bans prostitution, and Gotham, though the gayest town in the world, is still the cleanest!

Lippmann — Today and Tomorrow

MR. BYRNES at his press conference on Thursday said, referring to a critical article of mine which had been published that morning, that it was the easiest thing he knew of to sit in the grandstand and throw bottles at the pitcher. I am sorry if he feels that way about it. For the last thing I would wish to do is to make more difficult his prodigiously difficult task.

I had supposed, however, that in this country at least we believed that critical discussion was not only a legal right but on the whole useful in the formation of policy, that it is not an exhibition of rowdyism, like throwing bottles at the pitcher, and that the press and the people who sit in the grandstand are not there simply to cheer when the cheer leader waves his arms.

The criticism which Mr. Byrnes was dealing with was an argument that it was not possible to make a good and workable settlement in eastern Europe separately from a European and global settlement. Mr. Byrnes appears to feel that because it has been so difficult to reach agreement in one region, namely in eastern Europe, it is silly to suppose that it would have been any easier to reach simultaneous and general agreements in a broader negotiation.

But I submit that there is nothing silly about this, and that if he will study the history of any of the great peace conferences, he will find that successful statesmen have always recognized that where there were many difficult issues, none could be settled separately, that only in a general settlement could any of them be settled.

* * *

THERE IS A REASON for this. In any one region and on any one issue, some powers are stronger than others. If the negotiation is confined to one region, the power with the stronger position is able to refuse an agreement except on its own terms. But if the negotiation is broadened to include several regions, then the situation becomes different. The powers which were weak in the first region are strong in the others.

In a general negotiation, therefore, all have something to give and all have something to ask, and this is what induces them to find a basis for agreement. The more the negotiator restricts the field of the negotiation, the more likely it is to become deadlocked. In any negotiation, and particularly in international negotiation, the way to resolve a deadlock over one issue is to raise other issues.

Our recent experience in dealing with the Soviet Union is a good illustration of this point. There have been signs in the past few weeks—notably Stalin's two interviews—that there has been some slight change for the better in the behavior of Soviet officials. Now this change began almost immediately after an event, after the United States government took the decision to play a strong part in the settlement of the Turkish question and to build up the fleet in the Mediterranean.

Stalin has, to be sure, professed to be "indifferent" to this momentous event. But I think we are entitled to believe that this was the event which, more than anything else that has happened, caused him to reconsider his tactics and his position.

* * *

FOR STALIN, as all who have dealt with him seriously testify, is quick to appreciate the significance of strategical developments which affect his own country. The language he understands most readily is the language of military power.

But when in September American sea and air power began to build up in the Mediterranean and behind Turkey, which is the front door to the most vulnerable area of the Soviet Union, then the balance of power in Europe and in the world was altered. The Red Army, which dominates eastern Europe, and could not be moved by a diplomatic frontal assault, can be outflanked in the eastern Mediterranean. The British and Americans can never match the masses of the Red infantry. But sea and air power are a kind of force which we do possess and can readily augment. The appearance of this force on the flank of the whole Russian position in Europe, and pointed in a direction where Russia is most sensitive, was an event which Stalin could not, and I believe did not, ignore in the calculation of his policy.

LETTER PROVES BOMBSHELL IN WATERS TRIAL

Bride's Slain Husband Speaks From Grave, Expressing Fear of His Wife.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. —(INS)— Bridget Waters' own story and the voice of her slain American husband, speaking through a letter to his mother, were the principal points at issue today as attorneys prepared to deliver their final arguments in the Irish war bride's murder trial.

The letter, purportedly written Oct. 6, 1944, by Frank K. Waters while he was a civilian in the overseas employ of the army's general purchasing agency, was a last-minute prosecution bombshell.

Introduced into evidence and read in full to the western jury of eight men and four women—who will be given Mrs. Waters' case some time late today—the letter declared the black-haired girl was of a "Jekyll and Hyde-personality."

It charged flatly, and in direct contradiction to the testimony of Mrs. Waters herself, that it was she, not Waters, who "demanded" an abortion after she learned she was expecting the child who was in Waters' arms last Labor day when a .22 bullet was fired through his heart.

Following Judge A. S. Henderson's charge to the jury, each side will be alloted two hours for final arguments, thus making it certain that the talesmen finally will be given the case at the end of two weeks in court.

Throughout the letter — which sent Mrs. Waters into bitter tears, beating her fist on the counsel table, when she first read it during a court recess—ran a note of fear. It read:

"I am afraid of her. I am simply afraid to cross her. If she does have the baby, I won't know whether it was because she really wanted it, or because she couldn't get an abortion.

"It has killed every bit of love—she is capable of doing anything to gain her ends, and her ends are entirely selfish."

The letter said Waters tried to find a doctor to perform the illegal operation, after she had gone "into a rage," and after he failed the Irish war nurse twice tried suicide. Once, it said, she "ran upstairs, screaming at the top of her lungs that she was going to end it all."

MADISON GIRLS TAKE HAY RIDE

Leading up to Madison high school's last football game of the season, Nov. 9 with Millersburg, the Girls' Athletic association sponsored a hay ride Friday evening.

The association is also enthusiastically backing the annual volleyball tournament which will be played off in noon sessions in the high school gymnasium.

* * *

Another indication that the school year is well under way was the annual Halloween party, given Thursday night by the seniors in the gym. Contrary to the old tradition of black and orange for the decorations, the gym was fitted out with the fall colors of red, brown, yellow and green.

* * *

Other highlights of the week at Madison included the election of Girl Reserve club officers, announced by Miss Evalyn Wiseman, advisor of the club. Mary Alice McFarland was appointed president, Ruth Reynolds, vice president, Janalee Dunham, secretary, and Eleanor Stevens, treasurer.

* * *

On Tuesday, the pupils at the high school were addressed by Wilson MacDonald, Canada's poet laureate, who presented a program of Biblical verse and original works.

City Free During October From Automobile Fatalities

Mansfield escaped without any traffic fatalities in October, the monthly police report released by Chief of Police Meade K. Bates, revealed today.

However, the 85 traffic accidents in the city were five more than in September. Injuries last month totaled 13, one more than in the preceding month.

During October the traffic bureau served 713 motorists with tickets for violations on which the offenders paid fines of $799.

Totals for all charges filed by the police department during October exceeded the total for September by only 18, the report showed.

Charges were filed against 232 persons last month as compared with 214 in September.

Intoxication, a charge which exceeded all other offenses in both months showed a marked increase last month. In October 120 persons were charged with intoxication as compared with 90 in September. Only 10 of the persons charged with intoxication were women.

Another offense which soared from nothing in September to 14 last month was delinquency. Under this charge was booked all of the Halloween season's vandalism. Thirteen of those charged were boys.

A list of other offenses and the number charged includes: Breaking and entering, two; petty larceny, three; auto theft, five; assault and battery, two; forgery, two; embezzlement and fraud, one; carrying concealed weapons, one.

Liquor law violations, three; disorderly conduct, 11; gambling, 7; operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, 7; violation of driving laws, 17; traffic and motor vehicle law violations, 16; parole violations, two; tampering with a motor vehicle, two.

Eight persons were held for investigation and one was charged with being a suspicious person.

The traffic report showed 40 persons arrested on various traffic violations.

Tickets were given to 20 persons for violating a traffic signal and to 10 others for disregarding a stop sign.

POLICE SEEKING NICKEL'S LOOT

NEW YORK—(INS)—A treasure hunt to locate the bulk of $750,000 to $900,000 allegedly embezzled from the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., by W. Arthur Nickel was undertaken today by the New York district attorney's office.

Nickel, 60-dollar-a-week cashier of the firm was in custody at Miami Beach, Fla., awaiting arrival of New York officers. He has indicated he will not fight extradition.

Aided by Nickel's attractive wife, Grace, authorities found $83,100 in cash in two safety deposit boxes. They also found a "large" amount of jewelry estimated to be worth $30,000.

Brooklyn Prosecutor Miles F. McDonald said that Nickel had been taking approximately $75,000 a month for the past year from the firm and that the money assets so far found was but a small portion of that taken. The assets included an expensive yacht and deeds to real estate, McDonald said.

Prosecutor McDonald said Nickel had embezzled the money by making out false invoices and forging checks, using the names of two legitimate firms in New Jersey. Neither of the firms did business with the Mergenthaler company or had any knowledge that their names were being used in the transactions.

MANSFIELD LIKES NICKEL AIR MAIL

Mansfielders have responded enthusiastically to the reduced air mail rates, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today.

He offered as evidence an approximate sixfold increase in air mail stamp sales in October over the month of September when the old 8-cent rate was in effect. October sales of air mail stamps totaled 26,500 as compared with 4,600 stamps in September.

"The climax of sales came during National Air Mail week when about 11,000 stamps were purchased here." Ford said. "This represents double the average of any one previous week in October."

"Stamp sales, together with the souvenir flight to Cleveland this week, which demonstrated that mail could be exchanged daily with that city and comparable points, leave no question in my mind that with the proper facilities there would be sufficient volume to justify the new rate," Ford said.

Up and Down The Street

CHANGED HIS MIND—

Usually the right to change one's mind is reserved for women—so the men say—but police last night found a situation which was entirely reversed. Not only was it the man who changed his mind but he also complained of rough treatment at the hands of a woman. It was like this, police said: They were called out to hear a Marion man complain that he had been cut across the stomach by a woman. When asked to file charges, he said that he didn't want to, and then he decided against giving officers any description of the woman. Police said that the man had only a deep scratch which didn't require the attention of a physician. His friend, also a Marion man, said he would take him home.

SHE PLAYS CENTER—

In some quarters the manly sport of football might be considered the exclusive property of males. But not at the one-room Mifflin township school at Windsor, where the team candidates are enthusiastic but not numerous. Holding down the center position on the "first" team is Alma Booze, and she's no weak spot in the line. But despite best efforts of the feminine center and her teammates, Windsor was downed Thursday, 30-28, by Buena Vista.

Shows Movies For Children

Support of a specially designed series of motion picture programs for juveniles was recommended yesterday by members of the Mansfield PTA council and school representatives at a meeting at John Simpson junior high school.

Donald Jacobs, manager of the Ohio theater, which is sponsoring the series, told a group of parents and teachers the programs are designed "strictly for children's entertainment."

Among the movies to be shown are "Blondie Brings Up Baby," "The Prince and the Pauper," "Five Little Peppers," and "Mid-Summer Night's Dream," which are the first four pictures to be shown at the Ohio, Jacobs said.

The movies will be shown on Saturdays beginning Nov. 9. Doors will open at 9:30 a. m., and the movies will start at 10 a. m. There will be a special rate of 25 cents to all for the pictures.

"This program is in response to the long time urging of PTA and parents groups for a program especially designed for grade school children," Jacobs pointed out.

Although a quorum permitting the passage of a resolution was not present at the meeting it was approved unanimously that efforts should be made to have the individual school councils pass resolutions supporting the special children's programs.

LAST MONTH'S TOTAL HIGHEST SINCE V-J DAY

USES Finds Work for 623 In City Area During October, Report Shows.

Job placements in the Mansfield area in October topped every month since V-J Day with jobs found for 623 persons, C. W. Handley, manager of the U. S. Employment Service office in Mansfield reported today.

Placements in September totalled 496, Handley said.

The proportion of placements made as compared with the number referred to employers also soared last month over the previous month. Last month 1,017 persons were referred to jobs as compared with 1,151 referrals in September.

Records in the USES office also showed that there were 961 unfilled job openings on file Oct. 1 and 528 openings on file Oct. 31.

However, Handley said these figures didn't represent a true picture of the labor market situation in the Mansfield area.

Plenty of Jobs.

"If we had applicants to fill them, I'm sure that our staff members could go out and locate many more job openings," he said.

On the other side of the ledger, the activity in applications for work was a decline in October, according to Handley.

On Oct. 1 the office had applications for work from 647 persons, but by Oct. 31 this figure had dropped to 553. New applications during the month amounted to only 315, he said.

Handley said that 58 of the October applicants were referred to this office by other USES offices in the state, but a far larger number were transients who came here "on their own."

463 Veterans Seek Jobs.

Of the total number of persons seeking work 463 are veterans. Handley said 190 veterans were placed in jobs during the month.

Eighty per cent of the number of placements made last month were in the manufacturing field and six per cent in the construction field.

ESCAPERS ROB PARK CARETAKER

ASHLAND-County authorities today threw out a dragnet for two escapers from the Elkhart, Ind., county jail, who yesterday robbed the caretaker of a roadside park near Savannah and escaped pursuing officers in the caretaker's automobile.

Arthur Samsel was held up at 3 p. m. by two men driving an Indiana automobile, he told sheriff's officers. He said the pair demanded his money and although they did not display a weapon, one kept his hand in his pocket.

After he gave them approximately $15, the pair locked Samsel in an outbuilding and escaped, one driving the Indiana car and the other in Samsel's 1941 green coupe.

Samsel broke out of the building and notified Sheriff H. R. Myers who, with deputies and state highway patrolmen, chased the two automobiles on Wooster road, east of Ashland.

Sheriff Myers said the men abandoned the Indiana car and sped away in Samsel's automobile. He said pursuing officers lost track of the pair in Riceland, near Wooster.

The two men were identified by the sheriff's office as Clacy Eads, 23, and Charles Hart, 17. According to Sheriff Myers, the pair escaped from the Elkhart jail early yesterday.
